Semences plantes utiles au jardin

LES PLANTES UTILES, UNE SOLUTION COMPLÈTE, SIMPLE ET NATURELLE POUR ENTREtenir SON POTAGER

La nature est bien faite. Certaines plantes ont la capacité d'optimiser la fertilité de la terre naturellement par un apport d'azote et de carbone. Les plantes utiles sont semées dans le but de nourrir, embellir et protéger le sol.

Bien nourrir son jardin permet d'obtenir des plantes plus fortes et plus résistantes. Les plantes utiles vont également aérer et protéger la surface du sol en limitant l'érosion et leur floraison attirera les insectes pollinisateurs. De plus, leur présence réduira l'apparition des herbes indésirables.

LES CONSEILS DU JARDINIER

Semer les graines à la volée après une culture de printemps ou d'été et avant la culture du printemps suivant.

Le semis peut se réaliser à différents moments de l'année selon les espèces.

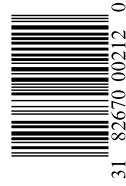

Que faire après la floraison ? Après avoir tondu ou fauché les plantes, deux options s'offrent à vous : laisser les résidus en surface pour faire du paillage, ou bien les laisser sécher 8 jours sur place avant de les enfouir pour un engrais 100% naturel.
